FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – AAAA NASHVILLE

Fulcrum Concepts Showcases Black Hawk Enhanced Combat Package and Proven Weaponization Solutions at the 2025 Army Aviation Mission Solutions Summit

NASHVILLE, TN — Fulcrum Concepts is proud to return to the 2025 Army Aviation Mission Solutions Summit, bringing a focused spotlight to our cutting-edge Black Hawk Enhanced Combat Package—a modular solution that transforms the UH-60 into a multirole, mission-dominating asset.

Fulcrum's Black Hawk Enhanced Combat Package delivers unmatched lethality and adaptability for the UH-60 fleet. This comprehensive weaponization package is engineered for versatility and rapid reconfiguration, giving warfighters expanded combat capabilities across a full spectrum of mission profiles. Whether you're engaging in direct action, escort, or defensive operations, Fulcrum's solution ensures your Black Hawk is ready for anything.

As a trusted provider of aircraft weaponization, Fulcrum Concepts continues to offer battle-proven solutions, including the GAU-19/B .50 caliber Gatling Gun, the Configurable Lightweight Armament Wing (CLAW), and the Modular Effects Launcher (MEL). Fulcrum is the OEM for the GAU-19/B, a lightweight, three-barrel Gatling gun capable of firing 1,100–1,300 rounds per minute. Field-proven in a wide range of operations and platforms, it delivers devastating firepower with reliable performance that U.S. and allied forces have depended on for decades.

“At Fulcrum Concepts, we leverage extensive combat experience, advanced engineering, and highly-capable personnel to deliver tactical aviation solutions,” said Fulcrum's VP Tony Cozzitorto. “We design and deliver seamless, lightweight missionization packages built to thrive in real-world operations.”

Visit Booth #1716 at the 2025 Army Aviation Mission Solutions Summit, May 14–16, at the Gaylord Opryland Hotel & Convention Center in Nashville, Tennessee, to see how Fulcrum is redefining what's possible in the battlespace.
